

TECHNOLOGY ASSISTED CHILDREN'S HOME PROGRAM

(TACHP) is a free program developed to provide unique, home-based care coordination to parents of children with special healthcare needs. TACHP provides non-medical services to build capacity among families and caregivers to care for their technology assisted children in their home. Our team of community navigators draw on the shared expertise in the service areas provided within the program, including special education, parental advocacy, medical assistance, accessing in-home nursing services, etc.

WHO CAN REFER TO TACHP

- Families and/or self-referrals
- Medical, therapeutic, community-based, and social service providers
- Schools/school districts/intermediate Units
- Nursing/Home Health Agencies

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR SERVICES

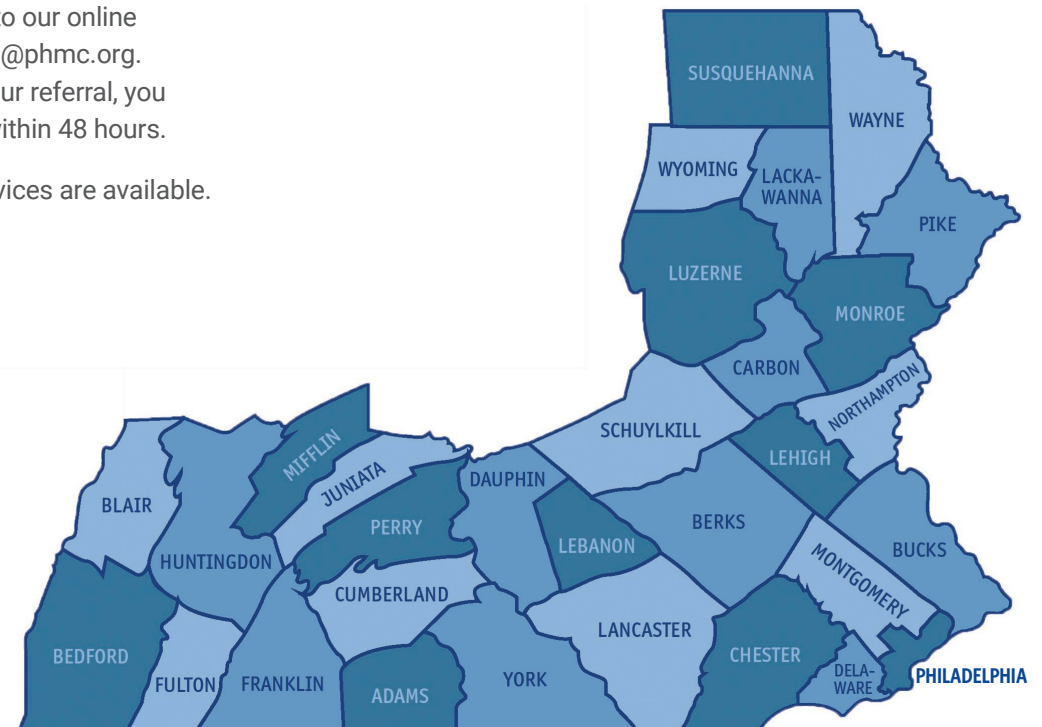

- A child who is 0 – 22 years of age
- Lives in one of the specified Eastern counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (See map of counties)
- Technology-assisted or medically complex

Contact us for specific questions about eligibility.

HOW TO REFER TO TACHP

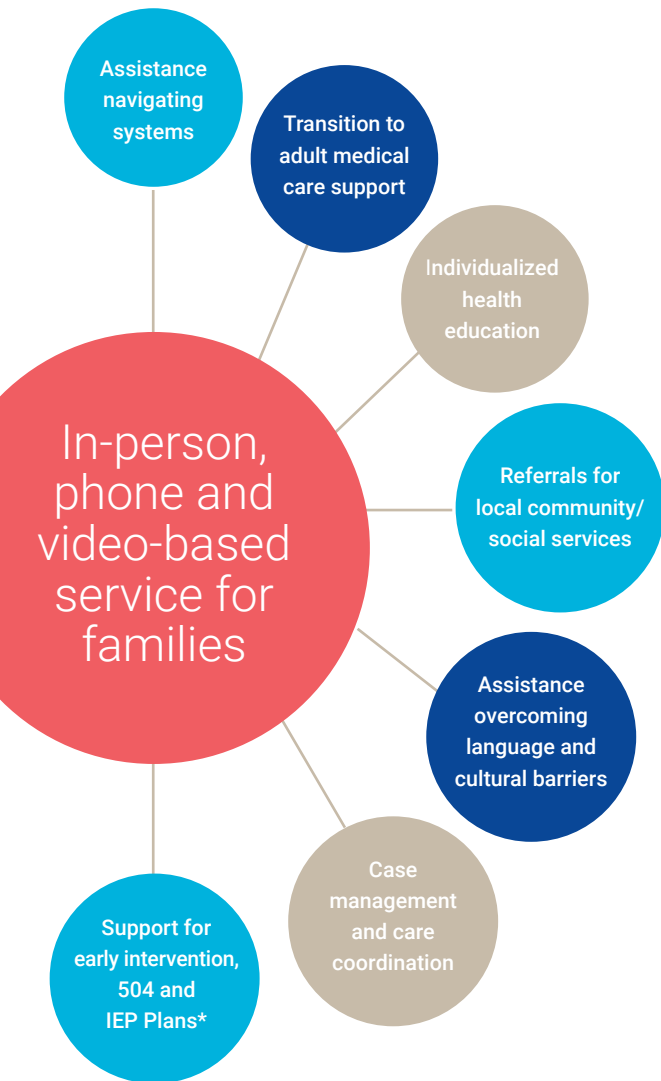

Please contact us for a link to our online referral via our email TACHP@phmc.org. Once you have submitted your referral, you will receive a confirmation within 48 hours.

Language interpretation services are available.

OUR SERVICES

TACHP provides comprehensive non-medical services to families, as well as training for home health professionals who wish to improve their capacity and expertise in working with technology-assisted children.

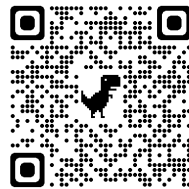

Parents and providers are welcome to attend quarterly Eastern Pennsylvania Special Needs Association (EPSNA) meetings. EPSNA offers presentations and discussions on issues central to families caring for medically complex children in the home.

TACHP offers Capacity Building trainings to improve skill-sets of individuals caring for technology-assisted children.

TACHP also offers Shift Check, a free mobile app for caregivers to document their experience with in-home shift nursing services. The app is available to all families across PA and can be downloaded in your app store.

To learn more about these offerings please visit our website at www.tachp.phmc.org or use this QR code.

TACHP is a program offered by Health Promotion Council (HPC)
For more information, visit www.hpcpa.org

TECHNOLOGY ASSISTED CHILDREN'S HOME PROGRAM

